The Islander

DAILY COLONIST MAGAZINE

VICTORIA, B.C., SUNDAY, MARCH 22, 1959

Author-photographer Cecil Clark has faded out the background to accentuate this modernized section of the Windsor, formerly the Victoria Hotel, considerably altered since it was built 100 years ago. It was Victoria's very first commercial brick building. One of its guests in 1888 was the extraordinary "Dr." G. Hamilton Griffin, whose story Mr. Clarke relates on pages 8 and 9 of this issue.